

NEW YORK STATE IS THE LAIR OF THE WILDCAT

ONLY STATE IN THE UNION
WITHOUT A LAW TO PRO-TECT INVESTORS

The lair of the wildcat is now nested in New York. In the deep canyons where the sunlight seldom penetrates the artful feline lies in wait for its prey. Every mining state in the union, including Nevada, has an anti-wildcat law that operates to the exclusion of doubtful schemes backed by adventurers who have nothing but unlimited gall as the capital for their operations. New York has no wildcat law. It has become the mother of every confidence game that has been driven from the frontier. In the shades of Pine street, New street and Broad street the genius of the bunco artist finds a fertile soil which he cultivates with an assiduity that yields most appalling returns. The New York Herald recently was induced to investigate the Johnny-Come-Alongs with the result that it submits facts that are startling as they are true.

In the shadow of the New York sub-treasury there are firms of notorious swindlers that should not be permitted to exist anywhere, within call of a police patrol box. It is estimated that the receipts of these concerns is not less than $200,000 a day and that, within the last three years, $100,000,000 has passed through the hands of fraudulent stock brokers. Thirty millions of this amount went to a certain firm whose name would not furnish material for a guessing contest. This company, working under numerous aliases, is reported to have a mailing list of 250,000 "suckers," each of whom has bought wildcats from New York houses. These figures are not the guesswork of hurried reporters but "conservative estimates" of the postoffice department issued by Postoffice Inspector Dickinson in charge of the New York division.

"They have done more harm to legitimate investments," the report continues, "than all the appeals for conservatism have done good. The marvelous part of their insidious advance is that they use the same old bunco talk, so shallow it would seem ridiculous to an average intellect, yet the same victims are found biting again and again."

BROUGHT SAMPLES FROM DUNDERBERG

PROPERTY IN I X L DISTRICT
BEING DEVELOPED—HAS GOOD SHOWING

Alfred Jones, superintendent of the Dunderberg property in I X L district, came in to Wonder Wednesday for supplies.

Mr. Jones brought with him some very fine looking specimens of lead ore, taken from the two tunnels which have been run on the ledge. No assays have yet been made of these samples.

Two tunnels have been run to cut the vein on this property at the different levels, and in each instance rich ore has been found. Sufficient depth to satisfy the owners of the permanence and extent of the ore deposit was not reached by these tunnels, and a third one, to cut the vein at a depth of 500 feet, is being run. Good progress is being made in driving this lower tunnel, and Mr. Jones expects, if no difficulties are encountered, to strike the ledge by the first of the year. When the ledge is cut at this level, if it shows up as good as it does above, it is the intention of the company to lose no time in getting the mine into shape for working, erecting a reduction plant, and going into the bullion business.—Wonder Mining News.

WOMAN HAS FINGER PIERCED BY NEEDLE

MRS. LEONA KEATING HAS A
PAINFUL EXPERIENCE
WHILE SEWING

With one of the fingers of her left hand pierced through and through by the needle of the machine on which she was doing some sewing, Mrs. Leona Keating, residing near the Sundog schoolhouse, was compelled to endure thirty minutes of agony while awaiting the arrival of a physician, says the Goldfield Tribune.

Mrs. Keating was sewing and at the same time talking animatedly with friends, with the result that she failed to notice how closely her hand was approaching the flying needle. Suddenly she uttered a shriek of pain as the needle pierced her finger and remained there, stopping the machine.

Several of her feminine friends who were present at the time, endeavored to release her, but were unsuccessful and Mrs. Keating finally decided to await the arrival of a physician rather than chance breaking the needle off in her flesh. Thirty minutes elapsed before the doctor's arrival, and it was found necessary after that to take off a portion of the top of the machine before her hand could be released. Notwithstanding her unfortunate accident did Mrs. Keating suffer serious consequences, nor is it believed that there is any danger of infection from the steel needle.

TONOPAH GIRL IS WEDDED IN SEATTLE, WASH.

BEATRIX SMITH AND RALPH
CRYSTAL WERE MARRIED
YESTERDAY

"Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9, 1910.

"At St. Mark's rectory by the Rev. Shaylor, Ralph R. Crystal, of Othello, Wash., to Beatrice Smith of Tonopah, Nev."

The above telegram was received by the parents of Miss Beatrice Smith last evening. Miss Smith, or Mrs. Crystal, left several days ago for Seattle to meet Mr. Crystal. The couple had been engaged for a number of months and at the time of the local railroad trouble, Mr. Crystal, who was employed as an engineer, left for the north, where he is now located.

The news of the wedding was not a surprise, for only a short time ago the friends of the bride tendered her with a linen shower. She is exceedingly popular in this camp and has hosts of friends. For some time she was employed at the post-office and there, by her courteous, obliging and accommodating ways, she won the respect of all with whom she came in contact.

Mr. and Mrs. Crystal will make their future home in Washington.
